The communication advised students who completed the Emergency Financial Aid Application at the beginning of the semester and checked the appropriate box that a portion of their aid could be applied to their student account. (This and other communications are posted on the website). It also advised students that the College was providing them with a second opportunity to request “account balance payment assistance” and referred them to the Office of Financial Aid. In compliance with subsequent requirements (under HEERF III), this correspondence also advised students that if their circumstances had changed, they could consult with Financial Aid for a recalculation of the “expected family contribution.”

The estimated total number of students at the institution who were eligible to receive Emergency Financial Aid Grants to Students under the CRRSAA (a) (1) program is 1501. (Most of these students received direct emergency grants as described in the HEERF III Student Aid report and posted on the College’s website.)

The total number of students who received an Emergency Financial Aid Grant under the CRRSAA was 315 for a total of $699,797. This “emergency aid grant” enabled the College to relieve students of some of their ongoing challenges by addressing their student account balances.
